
Golf and Gardens of Ireland

6 Nights | 4 Rounds | 3 Garden Tours | Ballybunion (Old) & Innacullin Gardens

Incredible golf and the natural beauty of Ireland come together on this six-night tour, which includes four rounds of golf, three garden tours and is available from April to October. Waterville opened in 1973 along the scenic Ring of Kerry and renovations by American architect Tom Fazio enhanced this course. Ballybunion Old Course rests along a sandy cliff top, delivering one of the more famous and highly rated courses in Ireland. Greg Norman designed a masterpiece at Trump Doonbeg, taking advantage of the natural setting and majestic beauty the area afforded him.

Enjoy a stroll through Kells Bay Gardens which features plants and flora from throughout the Southern Hemisphere in a setting beyond compare. The gardens are also home to the largest palm tree in Ireland, which was imported from Chile and transplanted to the garden in 2007.

Innacullin Gardens sits on a small 37-acre island in the sheltered harbor of Glengarriff in Bantry Bay.

Deluxe accommodations are provided at Killarney Park Hotel and the Trump International Golf Links & Hotel Ireland.

A VIP Coach with Concierge Driver is available for parties of eight, while self-drive options are available for parties of four.

Thursday, July 21

Today play Doonbeg (tbc). The newest addition to Ireland's collection of storied links courses having opened in 2002. The course is located between Lahinch and Ballybunion on the west coast. Originally identified by the Black Watch Regiment as the preferred site for their course in the 1890's, it was overlooked in favor of Lahinch due to superior railroad access. Greg Norman has designed a magnificent links course, carved out of a landscape of grass covered dunes which border the Atlantic Ocean. Each of the holes offers wonderful panoramas of the ocean and the Irish countryside.

Friday, July 22

Play Lahinch (tbc). Originally designed by Old Tom Morris and later modified by Dr. Alister MacKenzie and most recently Martin Hawtree, the course has a vast array of grass covered knolls and sweeping contours. Optimal use is made of the many natural sand dunes, notably at the par three 5th hole, "The Dell", where the green is completely hidden from the tee. Lahinch is the permanent home to the South of Ireland Amateur Championship.
